This guidance explains what must happen when there are changes within a provider organisation after it has registered.

If the identity of the relevant individuals within the company, partnership or association changes, the provider, that is the company, partnership, or association must notify the Care Inspectorate under the Public Services Reform (Scotland) Act 2010. This applies to anyone who acts as a director, manager, secretary to the organisation, partner, board member or committee member (except where the applicant is a local authority). We refer to these people as relevant individuals.

If there is a change of relevant individual as described above, we will ask the newly appointed relevant individual to complete the declarations and provide the information requested in this form. Once we receive the information, we may ask for a PVG Scheme check and for references in order to check the ongoing fitness of the provider. The Care Inspectorate will decide if a fitness check on newly appointed relevant individuals is needed. For example relevant individuals who are:

- directly involved in delivering care or the recruitment of staff
- the chairperson of a Board or Committee
- secretary to the organisation
- treasurer/finance director for the organisation.

When deciding which relevant individuals to check we take account of the information given in the completed declarations. We may decide that individuals who are involved in delivering care services are relevant individuals.

If the company directors or officers change, the registration certificate will not need to change (if the company name, registered office address and company number remain the same). If the partners in a partnership change (where the partnership is to continue otherwise unaltered) the registration certificate should be updated to show the names of the new partners. The names of those who are no longer partners should be removed. Sometimes changes in a partnership will result in a partnership coming to an end and a new partnership being formed. If there is any doubt about whether the partnership is continuing (that is, whether the provider remains the same legal entity) you should get legal advice.

For more information or advice on how to ascertain whether the provider's identity has changed, please seek legal advice.

Fitness check of relevant individuals

This declaration must be signed by every person who is, or acts as:

- a director, manager or secretary of the body corporate (where the applicant is a body corporate other than a local authority);
- a partner in the firm (where the applicant is a partnership);
- a member of the firm (where the applicant is a limited liability partnership);
- a member of the firm (where the applicant is a limited partnership); or
- concerned in the management or control of the association (where the applicant is an incorporated or unincorporated association other than a firm).

The Act and associated Regulations and orders state that a person shall not provide or manage a care service, unless the person is fit to do so.

When we consider applications made by applicants who are not individuals, we must consider whether the officers and individuals concerned in the management and control of the applicant organisation are of integrity and good character.

'Relevant individuals' are persons who act as:

- a director, manager or secretary of the body corporate (where the applicant is a body corporate other than a local authority);
- a partner in the firm (where the applicant is a partnership);
- a member of the firm (where the applicant is a limited liability partnership);
- a member of the firm (where the applicant is a limited partnership); or
- concerned in the management or control of the association (where the applicant is an unincorporated association other than a firm).

If the organisation has fewer than four relevant individuals, then all relevant individuals must complete a check through the PVG Scheme/Disclosure Scotland.

If the organisation has four or more relevant individuals, the Care Inspectorate will carry out checks on the following relevant individuals:

- those concerned in the provision of the care service;
- · those concerned in the appointment of staff to the care service; or
- where there are fewer than three relevant individuals who are concerned in the provision of care or appointment of staff, up to a minimum of three.

The Care Inspectorate will carry out checks through the PVG scheme/Disclosure Scotland on these three relevant individuals on behalf of the applicant. Relevant individuals must make themselves available at their nearest Care Inspectorate office to undergo the check if requested.

It is an offence to give false information as part of an application to register a care service. Failure to provide true and accurate information may result in refusal of the application to register a proposed care service with the Care Inspectorate.

The Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exclusions and Exemptions) (Scotland) Order 2003 requires that individuals applying for PVG Scheme Record background checks must declare all convictions whether 'spent' or not. Any failure to disclose convictions may result in refusal of the application to register the proposed care service with the Care Inspectorate. Any information provided will be confidential. The disclosure of conviction(s) in relation to a relevant individual does not necessarily exclude an applicant from consideration and the nature of the offence(s) will be taken into account.

Please note that providers must give written notice to the Care Inspectorate as soon as it is practicable to do so if there is any change in the ownership of a corporate body or the identity of its officers; or where there is any change in the identity of partners in a firm. The Care Inspectorate may request that further checks through the PVG Scheme be carried out in relation to relevant individuals at those times.
