Joint inspections of services for children and young people in need of care and protection

Information leaflet for children,
young people, parents and carers

HAPPY TO TRANSLATE

The Care Inspectorate is inspecting services for children, young people and families in your area. This includes the work of health visitors, school nurses, teachers, doctors, social workers, police officers and lots of other people who work with you.

We want to hear from care experienced children and young people and those who need support and extra help to keep safe.

When we say 'care experienced', we mean children and young people currently or previously looked after and living with parents, with other family or friends, with foster carers, in residential care or receiving regular overnight short breaks.

We are trying to find out if children, young people and families get the help they need. We also want to know how much of a difference this is making to you and your family. To do this we need to...

- speak with the staff who work with you
- speak with you and listen to your views
- speak with parents and carers
- read information about you.

When we have concerns about any individual at risk of abuse or harm we have a duty to pass this information on. We will share this with services responsible for the protection of children, young people and adults.

GET INVOLVED AND HAVE YOUR VOICE HEARD!

We may want to speak with you about services you use and the help you have been getting because what you think really matters. This could be as part of a group, but sometimes this will be just you on your own. You can have a person to support you when you speak to an inspector or one of our young inspection volunteers. We are also using a survey which you can request from us.

YOUNG INSPECTION VOLUNTEERS

Young people with experience of care services aged 18 - 26 who help us with our inspections.
